"This is the first year the Honolulu association has definitely undertaken the training of men. Mr. Ober, of the ship Plan" has been evolved, and one International Committee is considering using the local association for the training of men for the secretaryship in the Orient. This will be a great help to the local work as there would always be on the association staff several strong college men anxious to make good and demonstrate their ntness for promotion. This will give the association a larger staff than it would otherwise be able to maintain for the same amount of money. "As further benefit would be that men going into other fields of the asseciation work in the islands would have first received one or two years training and would not go into their permanent position as malihinis, but would have the advantage of a couple of years residence in the city."
